Thursday, May 21st, 2009

Speaker Pelosi and Waterboarding: There has been much controversy over the Speaker's recent allegations that she was mislead or lied to, by the CIA regarding "enhanced interrogation techniques." Former Speaker Gingrich has even called for Pelosi's resignation.

I will not pass judgment on that right now. But, the Speaker has alleged that the CIA has committed a criminal act by intentionally misleading Congress on a matter of national security. President Obama's CIA Director Leon Panetta vehemently denies this charge.

Yesterday, Congressman Darrell Issa (R-CA) called for a Congressional investigation into the Speaker's charge and the alleged criminal act. Either the Speaker is telling the truth or the CIA is. We should find out.

Attached is a video of what the Speaker has said on this issue. Admittedly, this is produced by the Republican House Conference. But it is all her words and video.

It is less than two minutes long and I think it tells quite a story.

Until tommorrow, I remain respectfully,

Congressman John Campbell