

In the past year, I along with several of my fellow “earmark warriors” have advocated for sweeping reforms of the earmark process. One of the main pillars of this effort is the complete and outright disclosure of all earmarks requests. Our friends over at the Sunlight Foundation have com... In the past year, I along with several of my fellow “earmark warriors” have advocated for sweeping reforms of the earmark process. One of the main pillars of this effort is the complete and outright disclosure of all earmarks requests. Our friends over at the Sunlight Foundation have compiled a list of members who are currently transparent in their earmark requests, those who aren’t, and those who have currently abstained from earmarking.

Click here to see the list in full.