

This year, the government will borrow 46 cents of every dollar it spends. I don't even need to say another word.