

Recapping "Fix It": As most of you regular readers know, I have just finished my "Fix It" Series; a nine-part, comprehensive proposal for how to cultivate two new decades of American hegemony, prosperity and growth. I really appreciate all of the responses and the overwhelming support I have received from you for my ideas.

Some of you have recently subscribed to my "Laptop" and may have missed several of the earlier "Fix It" episodes. Others have asked if there is a way to view all of the episodes at once. So, in order to make all of you happy, I've placed the entire series on my website ( www.campbell.house.gov ) on one main page with links to every episode. This page can be accessed directly by visiting www.campbell.house.gov/fixit

Or, you can just click the picture below:

By the way, you can access every "Laptop" I've written in Congress on my website under the Laptop Report section.
